SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Following will be read with interest.

Under date of April 26th. 71, Dr. Henry J. Rogers, 68 Sharp street. Baltimore, an eminent physician writes regarding CEYSTAL DISCOVERY:

"It affords me much pleasure to bear testimony as to the efficacy of your Crystal Discovery. Some years since, while in India I suffered from a severe lever peculiar to the country. On my recovering, a patch of hair on the left side of my head became perfectly white, without at all affecting the remainder. To remove this unsightly appearance, I had recourse to various preparations, both in Europe and this country; but they all had one great defect—they dyed the hair black. Now, with your Crystal Discovery, I can get the desired shade—the eatural color of my hair being dark brown. I consider your Discovery the best preparation I know of.

Yours, truly, HENRY J. ROGERS."

Clean, clear, harmless, it furnishes the only safe preparation to give new life to the Hair, when de cayed or gray. It will stop the hair falling, and remove dandruff. Sold by many of the principal druggists and at depot, 2d and D streets, N. W. oci-tr ARTHUR NATTANS, Discoverer, &c.

On the 2d of October a heavy snow storm prevailed, and on the 3d, for the first time, the air was clear. Mr. King says the survey will be completed by December 1st, and that the expedition is very successful.

THE BURNED CITY. What is Being Done for the People of Chicago and What They are Do-ing for Themselves.

In accordance with the suggestions of President Grant the banquet proposed by the city of Boston at the laying of the corner stone of the Post Office will be dispensed with and the money applied to the relief of Chicago. Mass meetings for the purpose of raising contributions were continued throughout the country yesterday and immense sums collected. A cable dispatch has been received from the English government to offer to Chicago all the military tents and blankets in Canada. Of the latter there are over five hundred thousand. The Bishop of Chicago telegraphs to Archbishop Spalding, of Baltimore, requesting that a general collection be made in all the churches on Sunday next. Hayes, of Ohio, has been in Chicago for several days working energetically. Gen. Sheridan reports that

NO OUT BREAK OR DISORDER has been reported; that no authenticated report of an attempt at incendiarism has reached him, and the people of Chicago are calm and well disposed, and that the force at his command is ample to maintain order should it be necessary to protect the district devasted by the fire.

THE CITY RISING PROM ITS ASHES. It is ascertained from official reports that fifty millions feet of lumber was destroyed, leaving twenty-four million feet still on hand. One hundred thousand dollars were subscribed in hundred thousand dollars were subscribed in Chicago yesterday toward rebuilding the chamber of commerce on the old site. Work upon it will be commenced at once. Wholesale dealers in provisions, flour, and lumber refuse to take advantage of the situation, but continue to sell their goods at old grices. The same is true of coal-dealers who have any steck left. Temporary buildings are being erected in every directors. coal-dealers who have any stack left. Temporary buildings are being erected in every direction, and by to-morrow night there will be hundreds of houses ready for occupation. A marked change in the spirits of the people has taken place. The first feeling of utter prostration has given way to confidence. The burnt district is no longer an object of interest, save as to the situation of sites for rebuilding. Every business man who can find a shed in which to resume, has begun business again. General Sheridan makes an appeal through EIGHTY DEAD BODIES are now lying in the morgue. The most were found on the north side. It is certain that this is but a small portion of the number caught in the flames and entirely consumed. The coroner yesterday held an inquest on sixty-four bodies, only two of which were recognized. One was Henry Ullman, a banker, and the other Peter O'Brien. The body of the man who crawled into the watermain has been recognized as that of A. Leckson, of No. 31 Milwaukie avenue. Twenty dead bodies were taken from the basements of two building.

THE OHIO ELECTION.—In fifty-two counties of Ohio, on the State ticket the reported republican gain is 4,300. The legislature will probably stand: Senate—18 democrats, 17 republicans. with Chesapeake Bay by a Short Line of Railway.

WASHINGTON, October 9, 1871. Editor Star: I have just returned from Calver county, Md., where I have been engaged for the past two weeks in examining the route for a rail-road to be made from Washington to the Chesapeake Bay, at a point a short distance above the mouth of Choptank river, where the road would, when finished, connect with the road leading from Washington to the lower part of the eastern where of Virginia there are restricted. shore of Virginia, thence across the bay to Hampton Roads, Norfolk, &c. I left New York on the 16th of September, since which time I have been busily engaged in the examination. I find that the best route would be to commence on Pennsylvania wayne at a roll. to commence on Pennsylvania avenue at a point where formerly stood the burnt bridge; thence to pass across the county of Prince George's, near the Woodyard near St. Rose's Church, and to cross the Patuxent river at or near the village of Nottingham, on the Patuxent river, to a point on the Chesapeake bay below Fishing point on the Chesapeake bay below Fishing creek, there to erect a breakwater. The distance from Washington to the bay, as near as I can ascertain, is 21 miles. The country through which the road would pass is level or slightly undulating, and easy to work. Had this road been built by the government during the late war, it would have been a saving of hundreds of millions of dollars. When made, it will shorten the time of travel from Baltimore five hours, from Washington, four or five hours.

from Washington, four or five hours.

It will, by its different connections, be a road of great travel both north and south; a coal depot on the bay might be established which could be approached at all seasons of the year, Chesapeake bay being one of the best harbors in the world. The road would pass through some of the best lands in Maryland, inferior to none business men of New York and Boston, intend to ask of Congress a grant of 2,000,000 acres of land to assist in making the road, the government to be allowed to pass her mails, &c., during wars, her troops and munitions of war free of charge.

I think that when the Washington and Chesapeake road is completed, a communication with the Point of Rocks road would lead to the formation of a coal depot at the Bay that would be of incalculable utility, not only to government but to the commercial world. The depot on the bay being made a port of entry, Washington could receive her goods in fifty (50) minutes from the custom-house. A person leaving Washington could, in twelve hours, be on Smith's Island, off Cape Charles, where there is perpetual summer, and where fish of all kinds and wild fowls abound. In eight (8) hours after leaving Washington they could be in Norfolk. In fact, it is a route that has as yet been neglected, but one that must be made.

The president here called on Bro. Robinson to

Mr. Brazil charged that Herbert had given work to men who were not members, and waxing warm as he threw about in the air an empty coat-sleeve, he yelled out to some one, "You pledge yourself to help your brother, and go back on him, YOU RED-HOT SCOUNDREL!"

Mr. Davis here, amid much confusion, charged that firebrands had been cast, and he deprecated Mr. Brown thinking that the insinuation was towards him, arose, and attempted to speak, when he was told to keep quiet, and yelled out "PUTMEOUT!"

The sergeant-at-arms (Perry) attempted to quiet Brown, but the latter let out his right and left bunches of fives, and amid yells and screams some went over the back benches, while Mr. M. Quiet was, however, partially restored, and Mr. Weems, as a candidate for membership, asked to withdraw. Perry tendered his resignation as sergeant-at-arms, and after some debate it was accepted. Mr. McReynolds said the applicants would withdraw. Prof. A. M. Green, having stood on his feet for fifteen minutes, was directed to proceed, and he gave the assemblage a good tongue-lashing for their bad behavior. Brazil followed, pitching into Matthew Brown, when the latter again started his chorus, "Put em out," &c. Several of the applicants here asked for the return of the ten cents paid as initiation fees. The treasurer having left, the president suggested that something should be paid for the amusement, and the applicants acceded and left.

Colonel Le Barnes was then unanimously nominated, Mr. Gideon's name having been withdrawn, and made a brief address, thanking the republicans of the district for their mark of confidence. A series of resolutions were adopted, pledging the Tenth district to the principles which have guided the republican party in the past; recommending the election of the principal officers of the District by the people; favoring two dollars a day for eight hours' work upon public improvements, and indorsing the comprehensive plan inaugurated by the Board of Public Works. Another resolution, looking to national legislation to protect the people in the exercise of the elective franchise, suggested by the assassination of colored men in the recent election in Philadelphia, was adopted. Short addresses were made by Allen Coffin, Esq., and Colonel R. J. Hinton, and the meeting adjourned with three cheers for their candidate.
